"The latest innovations on the Extracellular Vesicles field gathering in Bilbao, Spain"

Grupo Español de Investigación en
Vesículas Extracelulares
GEIVEX

GEIVEX is a consolidated non-profit organization aiming to promote the research, innovation and knowledge exchange in the field of Extracellular Vesicles (EVs). GEIVEX aims to advance personalized medicine by promoting the development of new tools and biomarkers with high social impact to generate benefits and equality in global health.

GEIVEX constitutes a very active association of researchers pioneering of many activities in the EV field starting just after the first conference of the International Society of Extracellular Vesicles (ISEV), held in Goteborg (Sweden) in April 2012. There, the Spanish researchers decided to establish a working group to contribute to the dissemination and integration of these small vesicles in the field of clinical diagnosis and therapeutics applications in Spain.

The scientific organizing committee of the 8th GEIVEX symposium is formed by local professionals with different EV expertise covering most of the different applications that these vesicles have for the Society.

The city of Bilbao

Bilbao, the largest city in the Basque Country, masterfully blends avant-garde architecture with historic charm. It's a UNESCO Creative City, home to the Guggenheim Museum and vibrant institutions like Azkuna Zentroa and the Arriaga Theatre. Known for its safety, transparency, and civic pride, Bilbao has earned global recognition for urban excellence and investment appeal. Voted Best European City, it's also a gastronomic powerhouse with 14 Michelin stars. Its old town, pintxos bars, and Txakoli wine offer authentic Basque flavor, making Bilbao a cultural and culinary gem.

The venue: BIZKAIA ARETOA

The meeting will be held at the Auditorium of Bizkaia Aretoa, University of the Basque Country (UPV/EHU), featuring 441 seats and exhibition galleries for poster sessions, coffee breaks, and sponsor stands. Spanning 9,000 m² over six floors, the L-shaped building overlooks the estuary and Guggenheim Museum.

Designed by Álvaro Siza, it emphasizes pedestrian-friendly, open architecture that harmonizes public and private spaces in one of Bilbao's most iconic locations. Its central position ensures easy access, and the inspiring surroundings foster creativity and collaboration.

Why should the industry be interested in supporting GEIVEX? There are multiple reasons:

- Increase the company's visibility among GEIVEX members, which include researchers, clinicians, and leading professionals in the field of extracellular vesicles.
- Access up-to-date information on the latest scientific, clinical, and technological advances in the field.
- Stay informed about events organized by GEIVEX—such as congresses, symposia, workshops, and training courses—where the company could participate or collaborate.
- Contribute to the development of standards and best practices in research, diagnostics, and therapeutic applications involving extracellular vesicles.

GEIVEX offers various sponsorship options for companies interested in strengthening their presence in the sector, with benefits that go beyond mere brand visibility. This is a strategic investment with real scientific return, allowing companies to position themselves as active contributors to the advancement of translational research and biomedical innovation.
